

Independent Study/Research Investigations- providing students with opportunities to conduct a research investigation where they identify a real problem or question, use appropriate methodologies to conduct the research, and develop a product to communicate their findings to an authentic audience. (middle school)

On-line Course Completion- participation in a computer generated course/curriculum program such as those offered by the Johns Hopkins Center for Talented Youth.